

A message from Bishop Rivera regarding Oso Mudslide Relief:

My Brothers and Sisters,

Who could have imagined the horror and sorrow of the mudslide in Oso, Washington? So many lives lost, homes destroyed, and whole communities shattered. The Episcopal Diocese of Olympia, our neighbor and partner in ministry in many ways, and particularly the Church of the Transfiguration in Darrington are working to restore life and bring healing to as many lives as possible. Episcopal Relief and Development was there almost immediately, but more is needed.

On behalf of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Oregon (through the Bishop's Discretionary Fund) I am making a special gift to the Diocese of Olympia for disaster relief. I have also made a personal gift. I invite you to join with me in supporting our sisters and brothers in Oso. You can do this by donating online here or by sending a check to the EDEO office and note Oso Relief in the memo line.

More information is available at the Diocese of Olympia website, ecww.org

May our prayers and our gifts make visible the love of the resurrected Christ to the people of Oso and the surrounding communities.

Blessings, Nedi

Bishop of Eastern Oregon
