Diocesan Prayer Calendar - 2013

Beloved Sisters and Brothers,

"The prayer of the righteous is powerful and effective." James 5.16

Every day my calendar 'pops up' the EDEO Daily Prayer List. I stop for a moment and remember the people of that parish or ministry, and keep them and all of you in my heart. Every Sunday we are invited through the EDEO Sunday Prayer List to keep one another in prayer along with the various provinces and dioceses of the Anglican Communion.

Our hearts are expanded by this life of prayer for one another, for in prayer our connections to one another are deepened, and our connection to God is made incarnate. So we pray for one another because that is how we become who God calls us to be. That is how we learn to live for others and with others. That is how we are, as Jesus prays, made one in Christ.

I have been thinking lately about the old disciplines: about going to church, praying always, reading Scripture, tithing, fasting and giving thanks in all circumstances. I am convinced that these are the ways God grabs us by the scruff of the neck, or embraces us in huge bear hugs, or whispers in our ear. It is in these simple incarnate ways of being present to one another that we encounter Jesus. It is also through these disciplines that we allow God to have God's way with us, when we allow God space to transform us.

So let us pray without ceasing, for the world and for one another, asking God to make us whole, to make us one, to make us new.

Blessings,

+Kedi
